COAL SAVING RULES REMAIN FOR PRESENT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—The need for conserving coal does not end with the shutting off of the mines, and the restrictions will be enforced for an indefinite period.

UNION LEADERS ACCEPT TERMS; SEND MEN BACK

Moderates Win at Hot Session; New Board to Act.

Belleville, Ill., Dec. 10.—Reports that Illinois miners would be slow to return to work were strengthened tonight when James Mason, an official of the Belleville sub-district, said:

"The 11,000 coal miners in our district had their minds fixed on a 31 per cent increase, and if they do return I do not believe it will be for at least several days."

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—The strike is over.

When the whistles at the mines blew tomorrow morning 400,000 miners will begin their return to the pits. There will be delays in some regions, but Friday night is expected to see production nearly 15 per cent normal and the end of the week, it is hoped, will make almost pre-strike production. The recalcitrant are not expected to be numerous.

Meanwhile the demand for empty cars on hundreds of sidings in the bituminous coal areas will be filled and started on their way to the most needy sections. The optimistic view is that by the first of next week the fuel crisis will have begun to subside.

The end of the strike came and the official order to resume work was issued when President Wilson's proposal for the settlement of the dispute was adopted here this afternoon by the union officials. Though there had been violent discussion, only one dissenting vote was cast against acceptance.

Interest in Communism.

With the outbreak officially terminated and the nation assured a resumption of production and early shipments, interest shifted tonight to the probable personnel of the commission President Wilson will appoint to make a permanent scale and outline some measure as will obviate the possibility of another crisis in the mining industry with its attendant perils and disaster.

According to the terms by which the strike was settled, this board will consist of three persons possessing wide latitude as to recommendations and considerable authority as to the future relations between the operators and miners' union and, these relations once adjusted, their effect on the public.

Who Will Be on Board?

When it is fully understood that the commission is empowered definitely to fix owners' profits, miners' wages, and prices the consumer must pay, the significance of its makeup is apparent.

Among the names suggested tonight in semi-official quarters as comprising this powerful body are those of Secretary of Interior Lane, T. T. Brewster, Francis S. Peabody, William Gibbs McAdoo, and John L. Lewis.

Mr. Lane or Mr. McAdoo may be named to represent the government. Mr. Brewster, now chairman of the central competitive fuel committee of the operators, or Mr. Peabody may be named to act for the soft coal mine owners.

Mr. Lewis, it is reported, may be named by the president to serve in behalf of the miners.

Others to Be Suggested.

It is considered as altogether probable that the president will not appoint the members to represent the parties to the dispute until he has learned who are the chiefs of the respective camps. In that event, he is expected to ask both operators and miners to submit a list of names from which he will select one of each to be associated with the government's representative.

Until this commission is named and instructed to submit its findings and decisions within the sixty days mentioned in the White House program, however, the country's interest lies in the earliest possible production of coal.

Tomorrow the miners begin their return to the pits, thus ending a walk-out of forty days. A notice directing all strikers in the 4,000 local unions to go back to work was prepared by

"Good Morning, Mr. Tate!"

Mr. Tate didn't know him from Adam, but he didn't care. He knew that Seymour was just a bookkeeper with some good looking clothes and an unusual wife. So Seymour made good on his bluff. Could you do it?

CUTS ICE AT POLE, SELLS IN KANSAS, THEN WAKES UP

Minneapolis, Kas., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Visions of affluence came and with them $20,000 hard earned cash, Homer Hognath, a farmer near this town, today applied for a warrant for Galileo Grubbs, alias Galileo Grubb, alleged participant in the discovery of the north pole and promoter for the "Aurora Borealis Ice Company."

One blazing hot day last July Galileo appeared on the Hognath farm. He was equipped with an apparatus similar to those used by surveyors. He seemed busy and preoccupied, continually looking toward the skies and gesticulating as if absorbed in calculating some abstruse problem in mathematics.

Finally, Hognath says, the stranger suddenly exclaimed excitedly, "This is the spot, the very spot." Then Galileo offered to buy the farm, but Hognath, counting a mysterious fortune, refused to sell.

Upon his fourth visit Hognath says Galileo agreed to take Hognath into partnership for $20,000. He explained that he had accompanied Peary to the north pole, and that the pole was really a steel platform. He had invented, he told Hognath, a mighty soap, to be attached to the pole and to be run by electricity.

In the process of the earth's revolution, Galileo explained, the soap would dip into the top of the axle, and as the earth revolved the soap would gradually tip and its contents fall to the earth in the exact longitude and latitude of Hognath's farm.

Hognath, after paying the $20,000, agreed to remain on the farm and take care of the ice, while Galileo would return to the pole and harness his soap to it.

Galileo is still at the pole.

AGED WOMAN DEAD OF GAS; DESPONDENT, DAUGHTER SAYS

BARBARA KOLARIK, 70 years old, was found dead by her daughter, Elizabeth, in her bedroom in their home at 3019 South Kolin avenue early this morning.

The gas had been turned on, the windows closed, and the door fastened shut with an old pair of suspenders. The daughter said her mother was despondent because of age.

President Lewis and telegraphed to the district officials.

Order to Resume Mining.

The message reads: "To members United Mine Workers of America: Conference of all district representatives of the United Mine Workers of America decided today to accept the proposition submitted by President Wilson, providing for an immediate increase of 14 per cent on mining prices, day work and dead work, and the appointment of a commission to decide upon our demands for a further increase in wages and the settlement of other questions in dispute. In view of this decision all United Mine Workers are instructed and directed to resume work immediately. A circular containing a full explanation and further instructions follows."

Lewis and Green.

Will Explain to Men. This telegram will be followed by an explanatory letter signed by the international officers and the district presidents. Afterward, when the industry has resumed normal output, the convention will be assembled in Indianapolis, when a detailed supplemental explanation will be given the delegates.

The strike leaders view the settlement as a victory. The government regards it as a great achievement. It is also a triumph for Lewis and Green. They were in absolute control. Lewis' arguments overruled all opposition and after the radicals unbundled themselves and got everything off their chests, every delegate, except Charles Grace of Harrisburg, who still resented the injunction proceedings, voted for the president's proposal.

One group, led by Frank Farrington of Illinois, while not opposing the settlement plan itself, argued that it should be sent to a delegate convention for action. Lewis and Green pointed out it would mean long delay in a time of fuel crisis and industrial paralysis, and Farrington's forces were bowled over by this argument.

Balm for Farrington.

As an afterthought, the two leaders, to strengthen Mr. Farrington's position in Illinois, but through the proposal for a convention, after production has resumed normal proportions. Both Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green gave out statements explaining and elaborating the short notices telegraphed to the 4,000 local, and through the medium of the press every striker will be in full possession of the facts by tomorrow morning.

Attorney General Palmer likewise supplemented the explanation with a note tonight asking the governors of all coal mining states to do all in their power to bring a resumption of peaceful relations between operators and miners, pointing out that the men are to be taken back upon the terms of the contracts existing Oct. 31, with the exception of wages, which get the 14 per cent increase posted some ten days ago by order of Dr. Garfield.

New Mining Conditions.

The terms of the settlement are: 1. Miners to resume work at once with the 14 per cent increase. 2. Other operators to resume on the basis obtaining Oct. 31. 3. A commission of three to be appointed by the president, one to be a miner and one an operator, to consider working conditions and wages. 4. Commission also empowered to deal with profits and proper prices to consumers and to readjust both wages and prices. In these matters it supercedes the fuel administration. 5. A report within sixty days to be accepted as basis of new wage agreement.

$70,000,000 Pay Increase.

The preliminary increase of 14 per cent is estimated to mean an increase of $70,000,000 a year in the total pay roll of the bituminous miners. The forty days of strike, with its loss of thirty-four working days, is estimated to have cost the miners a loss of approximately $53,000,000 in wages. The vast industrial and commercial loss due to the fuel shortage has not yet been tackled by the statisticians. The present 14 per cent raise is to be paid by the operators without boosting the prices of coal.

"Throughout the negotiations of the last week or so Mr. Lewis has loomed up in a new light to the powers that be at Washington. Although a conservative who fell into the radical program of the policy committee only as a heritage, he has been regarded as something of an extremist at the national capital, and the strikers say for reason why a settlement was retarded and the walkout prolonged was the failure of certain government officials to take Lewis at his word measure."

Lewis' Stature Grows.

Some of his admirers say his triumph today puts him into rank second only to General Grant as leader of the right wing of labor. The debate today was quite different in tone from that of yesterday, when radicals opposed the proposal itself. They seemed to have talked themselves

Miners Accept, Voicing Faith in the President

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 10.—United Mine Workers of America officials, after accepting President Wilson's terms for settlement of the strike, issued the following statement:

"The United Mine Workers representatives agreed to accept the president's proposal as a basis of settlement of the coal strike. They did so because it provides a definite, concrete, and practical method by which adequate consideration and a proper adjustment of their claim for an increase in wages and improved conditions of employment may be brought about."

"The United Mine Workers have full confidence in the president of the United States and profound regard for his will and judgment."

"The president's proposal differs from any proposal heretofore proposed in that it leaves nothing in doubt as far as a plan of adjustment and the details thereof are concerned."

Flaws in Garfield Plan.

"The scheme proposed by Dr. Garfield left no hope for the mine workers other than the acceptance of an increase in mining prices of 14 per cent. The president's proposal provides that this amount of advance is preliminary, and that the tribunal which he will set up will have full authority to consider further questions of wages and working conditions, as well as profits of operators and proper prices for coal, readjusting both wages and profits if it shall so decide. It further provides that the commission will have authority to settle internal questions peculiar to each district, all of which are of great importance to the mine workers."

"The commission will make its report within sixty days, unless some insurmountable difference arise which prevent it from doing so, and the commission will have authority to fix the date when any award it makes will become effective."

14% Raise Effective Now.

"The president's plan further provides that upon a general resumption of operations the status quo will be maintained; that is, that all mine workers will return to work with an increase in wages amounting to 14 per cent, upon the same basis which obtained on Oct. 31, 1919. Neither operators nor miners will be allowed to

out. The members went into a close discussion of the plan in all its details. There were two or three proposals of convention action, but they were knocked out.

The legal proceedings pending against nearly 100 union officials for alleged contempt of court in respect to the injunction issued by Judge Anderson, did not enter into the settlement. They remain as they are. Attorney General Palmer has not indicated what the course will be, but the best available information at present is that they will eventually be dropped. The ending of the strike turns them into nothing but post mortem anyhow, if they should be pushed.

Mr. Palmer left tonight for French Lick, and presidential politics may bring a little at the spa. Mr. Lewis will remain here a day or so before leaving for the labor conference at Washington.

LABOR TO TELL HOW IT STANDS TOWARD PUBLIC

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Now that the coal strike is settled and the steel strike simmered down to inactivity, organized labor as embodied in the American Federation of Labor and the railroad brotherhoods preparing to make a declaration of principles to the American people. For that purpose, heads of the international unions will meet Saturday, Dec. 13.

"It is earnestly hoped that out of the conference," Samuel Gompers said today, "will come a plan of action by which the orderly progress and development of the bond fide labor movement of America may continue in its great work, and also to secure the laws protecting the fundamental rights and freedom of the toiling masses of America."

"The wage earners of a republic cannot by any process be practically made slaves and the spirit of a republic endures." President Gompers' words are prophetic of an important phase of the forthcoming conference, which will be directed against activities in congress to restrict liberty of speech and to make strikes illegal.

TERMS OF MINE PEACE TO HAUNT PUBLIC, IS FEAR

Garfield Believes Owner and Miner on Board Will Boost Prices.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Although the settlement of the coal strike is a matter of general gratification here, because of a distressed fuel shortage, it is, nevertheless, a fact that the plan of settlement is not at all acceptable to the fuel administration, whose officials believe that it will return to plague the government and the people.

Fuel Administrator Garfield is keeping silence but it is known that he was opposed to the president's commission proposal. Such a board, Dr. Garfield believes, cannot look upon the interests of the public with an unbiased mind.

In the end, he fears, the miner and the operator will get together and vote the third member of the commission, whereupon the public will be crushed. Such a commission, the fuel administrator is said to believe, would not hesitate to readjust wages and coal prices so that the public would be called upon to pay the bill. At least, that is the danger in the plan.

Fuel Chief May Quit.

Dr. Garfield has been urged to comment publicly on the peace plan, but has refused to do so up to this time. Some of his friends predict that he will now insist upon acceptance of his resignation as fuel administrator, which has been in the president's hands for months. He will, if he takes this course, that his usefulness is past in view of the scope given to the new commission.

The settlement plan conducted for the president by Attorney General Palmer and Secretary Tumulty had its political aspect as well as its economic side. It is also freely asserted here in official circles.

Miners Reopen at Once.

"Mining will be fully resumed at once, the danger of disease and suffering during the winter is past, the authority of the government has been recognized and upheld, the supremacy of the law has been established, and a precedent of irrefutable value has been set for the peaceful, orderly, and lawful adjustment of industrial disputes."

FATAL FLOODS CONTINUE IN 3 SOUTHERN STATES

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 10.—The onset of the floods which have caused property damage in sections of Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars, and have resulted in the loss of several lives, has not been reached tonight, despite the occurrence of colder weather and absence of any more rain. Weather bureau officials said.

Miles of railroad tracks in the three states were under water and Mobile, Ala., and several smaller cities practically were isolated tonight. In West Point, Ga., tonight water was standing five to ten feet deep in the business section.

At Columbus, Ga., damage from the flood was estimated at more than $500,000 and 15,000 people were thrown out of work by the stoppage of industry. Street car service was suspended and electric current was cut off.

COMPLAINTS OF LACK OF HEAT, TREBLED FOR THE DAY, TOTAL 79

Complaints to the health department of insufficient heat in flats and office buildings tripled yesterday. The figure was seventy-nine for the day, three times the number recorded Tuesday.

Charles J. Boyd, superintendent of the Illinois Free Employment bureau at 119 North Dearborn street, reported that fourteen employees on the sixth floor of the building had to retire to the second and third floors when the temperature failed to rise above 46. On the second floor the thermometer read 46 and on the third the highest was 41.

Conditions have been frightful for several days, but the cold alone forced me to shut up shop yesterday," he said. "Coal conservation is causing employers to lay off employees and we must keep our agency going to find positions for those thrown out of work."

W. S. Van Kirk, 2433 Eastwood avenue, reported that the temperature in his flat varied from 45 to 54 degrees between 7 a. m. and 3 p. m. Dr. Robertson, the health commissioner, sent an inspector to investigate when he heard there was illness in the house.

TRIBUNE ATTITUDE DURING COAL CRISIS INDORSOR BY LEWIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 10.—President Lewis of the miners' organization was warmly relieved at the end of the bitter industrial struggle and seemed to be optimistic that President Wilson's commission will rectify all injustices the coal diggers claim is their portion.

Asked to what he attributed the sudden move in Washington that resulted in the submission of terms which formed the basis of settlement, Mr. Lewis dictated and signed the following statement:

"I have been very much impressed during the last few weeks of the controversy by the editorial attitude of THE TRIBUNE. In its tone and expression it has been evident that THE TRIBUNE desired a proper and just settlement of this serious industrial problem with due regard to justice to the mine workers as well as to the other parties in interest."

"THE TRIBUNE, in its advocacy for a wise and constructive policy, materially assisted in crystallizing the sentiment which brought to bear the pressure upon the government at Washington which has resulted so satisfactorily."

JOHN L. LEWIS, President United Mine Workers of America.

COMPLAINTS OF LACK OF HEAT, TREBLED FOR THE DAY, TOTAL 79

Complaints to the health department of insufficient heat in flats and office buildings tripled yesterday. The figure was seventy-nine for the day, three times the number recorded Tuesday.

Charles J. Boyd, superintendent of the Illinois Free Employment bureau at 119 North Dearborn street, reported that fourteen employees on the sixth floor of the building had to retire to the second and third floors when the temperature failed to rise above 46. On the second floor the thermometer read 46 and on the third the highest was 41.

Conditions have been frightful for several days, but the cold alone forced me to shut up shop yesterday," he said. "Coal conservation is causing employers to lay off employees and we must keep our agency going to find positions for those thrown out of work."

W. S. Van Kirk, 2433 Eastwood avenue, reported that the temperature in his flat varied from 45 to 54 degrees between 7 a. m. and 3 p. m. Dr. Robertson, the health commissioner, sent an inspector to investigate when he heard there was illness in the house.

ESTHONIA BALKS AT RED TERMS, BUT GAINS POINT

Bolsheviks Want Obstacles Raised Against Border Foes.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Copyright 1919, by the Tribune Company.)

DORPAT, Dec. 8. (By the Tribune Company.)—Military terms amplifying articles of the Bolshevik proposals is the second big point whereon the Dorpat conference is divided. Guarantees are demanded, and the Estonians feel it incompatible with their dignity, declaring signature of the peace treaty automatically fulfills everything.

Here Are Proposals.

Under the proposed terms the Estonian government would be obliged:

1. To prohibit the existence in their territory of any armed forces besides the national Estonian army.

2. Immediately to disarm those parts of the land and naval forces of the so-called Northwest Russia army existing within Estonian territory and to neutralize and immobilize the army and navy stores and material therein, the artillery, commissariat, engineering, and sanitary corps, guns, rifles, side arms, munitions, airplanes, automobiles and other belongings, until the Russian soviet government informs Estonia civil war has terminated within Russia.

3. To prohibit all enlisted men, officers and personnel of the Northwest Russian government and of other organizations and groups struggling against soviet Russia, which are now in Estonian territory, to join in any capacity, including that of volunteers, the national army of Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland and Finland.

4. To prohibit transport through Estonian ports or territory of any armed forces, besides the national army, or of army stores or materials.

Bar Against New Foe.

5. Not to allow the formation on Estonian territory or existence there of any organization or group pretending to the government of the whole of Russia.

The Estonians won the first point at the Dorpat conference with the agreement by the Bolsheviks to discuss armistice terms as a necessary preliminary to peace.

To Defend Independence.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The representatives of the governments of Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Ukraine and White Russia in conference at Dorpat have declared themselves in favor of a military and political convention to defend their independence, according to

SMITH'S MIGRATION

SMITH AVIATES FROM ENGLAND TO AUSTRALIA

PORT DARWIN, Australia, Dec. 10.

Capt. Ross Smith, the Australian aviator, arrived today from England, thus winning a prize of $50,000 offered for the first aviator to make the voyage.

Under the conditions laid down by the Australian government when it offered the prize, the distance of 11,500 miles had to be covered within thirty days.

As Smith left Houndslow, near London, on Nov. 12, he arrived within the time limit.

Smith's route was London, Paris, Rome, Saloniki, Cairo, Damascus, Baghdad, Bushire, Band ar Abbas, Sarbas Karachi, from the Baluchistan border, Delhi, Allah Abad, Rangoon, Bangkok, Singapore, Kallidaiti (West Java), and Port Darwin, on the northernmost tip of Australia.

In addition to the grand prize, the aviator also wins several money prizes offered by private concerns.

Greetings by the King.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The king has sent the following message to Capt. Ross Smith:

"I am delighted at your safe arrival. Your success will bring Australia nearer the mother country. I warmly congratulate you and your crew."

Premier Lloyd George has wired to the aviator:

"Heartiest congratulations. Your flight shows how the inventions of war have advanced the progress of peace."

ARMISTICE, LATEST IDEA.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Diplomatic dispatches from Dorpat say present indications are that there will be no peace treaty signed, although an armistice is possible.

The Letts, it is declared, prefer to sign an armistice, and allow peace conditions to develop while they maintain forces sufficient to protect themselves in the event of aggression.

DEFIANT GERMAN TROOPS RETURN TO BALTIC COAST

Four Trains Refuse to Obey Allied Order to Quit Courland.

BY WALTER DURANT.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable. (Copyright 1919.)

RIGA, Dec. 9.—Delayed.—Grave news has just been received here from East Prussia.

The German army headquarters at Königsberg says definitely this is according to their orders and take the responsibility.

Four trains went back northwest to Memel, where they still threaten Courland.

The German army headquarters at Königsberg says definitely this is according to their orders and take the responsibility.

Germans Become Truculent.

During the last few days the German attitude has become very truculent.

Members of the allied military missions at Chawit on the border of Lithuania and Latvia have been attacked and a French officer is reported killed. Allied officers were compelled to leave town.

The opinion of many allied military representatives here is that the German reactionaries may in desperation attempt a new push towards the Baltic regardless of allied action on the Rhine.

There is a strong argument in favor of such a move, as the state of affairs in Germany already is so serious that the military element may feel they have nothing to lose and perhaps something to gain by an adventure eastwards, whatever be the result.

Danger to Baltic.

The immediate consequence of the possible return of the Von der Goltz army is further to complicate the Baltic problem. The Bolshevik difficulty is great enough. Besides that, there is the Polish-Lithuanian imbroglio which is daily assuming a more serious aspect.

The moral of the whole business clearly is that the allies must lose no time in forming a united and definite policy. Unless they do so the conflict is almost inevitable.

Estate in Ireland Raided; Trees Are Chopped Down

BELFAST, Dec. 10.—A party of sixty men, armed with saws and axes, raided an estate in County Cavan Monday, which is under the control of the land judges court, an agent of which is an Orangeman.

The raiders cut down 300 trees and carried them away. A search by the police has revealed portions of many other freshly felled trees in houses in the same locality.

SENATORS FROM LOUISIANA HALT SUGAR PRICE CUT

Fillbuster to Defeat Bill by McNary for Supplies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—On behalf of the sugar planters of that Democratic stronghold, Louisiana, when the administration has succeeded to exact 17 cents a pound for sugar crop, Senators Ransdell and Gay met today to filibuster into oblivion the McNary bill to relieve the sugar shortage and check exorbitant prices.

For two hours the Louisiana senators, employing various time-consuming tactics, forestalled action on the bill until it finally was displaced automatically by the Cummins railroad reauthorization bill.

Senator McNary will endeavor to bring the measure up again tomorrow, but the unyielding attitude of the two Louisiana senators threatens to cause much more delay before the measure reaches a vote.

Proposes a Huge Purchase.
The purpose of the McNary bill is to enable the United States sugar equalization board to buy the Cuban sugar crop, estimated at 3,000,000 tons, sufficient to supply the needs of the United States and place it on the market at a fair and reasonable price. If these 3,000,000 tons were bought, the shortage would be relieved promptly and the price of sugar would go down, according to the supporters of the measure.

In calling up the measure, Senator McNary laid the blame for the sugar shortage and the high prices at the door of President Wilson. Last summer, he explained, seven of the eight members of the sugar equalization board urged the president to buy the Cuban crop, amounting then to about 1,000,000 tons.

One member of the board, Prof. Cassing, dissenting from his seven colleagues, submitted a treatise on economics, and persuaded the president to let the law of supply and demand take its course.

Huge Cost to Public.
Senator McNary characterized the president's failure to act upon the majority recommendation of the sugar equalization board as "a grave error" and told the senate it would cost the American people about $800,000,000 if the sugar prices rise 10 cents.

Senator McNary said that as a result of the knowledge that the government had failed to buy the Cuban sugar, hoarding by sugar dealers and individual consumers had begun.

He also attributed the shortage to the increased consumption of sugar caused by prohibition. The drinking population, denied its tipple, is engaged in candy eating, so that the increased consumption this year will amount to about 500,000 tons, he explained.

FOSTER MOTHER WINS

Judge Awards Temporary Custody of Abandoned Kidnaped Baby to Woman Seeking to Adopt Him.

Mrs. Augustine Gilmore and John.

Two women appeared before Judge William Pennington Cooper yesterday seeking possession of a baby boy. One was the natural mother of the child, who abandoned it at its birth three years ago. The other has cared for the baby since.

One week ago the baby's mother experienced reawakening of mother love and kidnapped her boy from Mrs. Augustine Gilmore of 833 Sheridan road, the foster mother.

The baby was spirited away by Miss Alma Pedersen, 4018 North Sacramento avenue, a friend of the baby's mother, and the woman through whose aid Mrs. Gilmore obtained possession of the baby. It was taken on the day before adoption papers were to be passed upon by the court.

Judge Cooper awarded Mrs. Gilmore temporary possession of the baby, giving abandonment as his reason.

"DRYS" TRAINING GUNS ON CUBA TO 'SAVE' AMERICANS

New York, Dec. 10.—A campaign to prevent Cuba from becoming "the Monte Carlo of the western world and the oasis of the north" was launched today by the Interchurch World Movement of North America.

English speaking residents of Cuba are ready to contribute $100,000 for the campaign, according to Guy S. Inman, secretary of the interdenominational committee of the churches on cooperation in Latin America. Church organizations throughout the United States will be asked to assist.

"There is a definite attempt being made," said Dr. Inman, "to make Cuba, particularly Havana, the Monte Carlo of the western world. This winter season horse racing and other forms of gambling and worse will be in full blast. As Christians we cannot get away from our duty to intervene."

Dr. Inman said 86,000 Americans had applied for passports to Cuba for the winter season and that by Jan. 1 the number would exceed 100,000.

Denial that the island was becoming a Monte Carlo was made today by Leopold Dolse, Cuban consul general at New York.

"I have never heard of any English speaking residents of the island objecting to racing and cockfights," he said. "If they should raise any fund at all in this connection it would probably be for more of the same."

U. S. AND BRITISH GUNBOATS RUSH TO FOCHOOW

Jap Troops and Fleet Mobilize as Chinese Anger Rises:

BY J. B. POWELL.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 9.—Delayed.—All China is in an uproar over the tactics of the Japanese in Foochow, the chief city of Fukien province, 300 miles south of Shanghai.

Chinese merchants and students over the country are holding public hearings of Japanese goods to show their determination to boycott Japan's commerce.

Twenty thousand Chinese students and merchants have just held a parade in Peking demanding that the government take action against the Japanese. Students elsewhere throughout China are leaving the schools for one week to agitate against Japan and to strengthen the boycott of Japanese goods.

Yankee Gunboat to Scene.
An American and a British gunboat have been rushed to Foochow. Japanese military forces are said to be swarming over the Japanese island of Formosa, off the coast of Fukien, and there are some detachments in Foochow. The Japanese are becoming desperate in their activities against the boycott, and it is feared that they may force intervention. The Japanese fleet is off Fukien.

A union of all Chinese organizations this week sent an appeal to friendly nations calling on them to cancel all their secret agreements with Japan, to return Shantung to China and to cause no more Japanese munitions and loans to be sold to China to perpetuate internal strife. The appeal says that China wished to accept the peace treaty with Germany with the Shantung clause omitted.

Start of Trouble.
The trouble opened up on Nov. 18 when the Japanese, in an effort to frighten the Chinese into dropping the boycott of Japanese goods, raided the Y. M. C. A. building in Foochow, killed four Chinese students and one policeman and wounded the American secretary. The city was in a turmoil for several days. On Nov. 27 the Chinese government was forced by popular outcry to demand of Japan removal of the Japanese consul at Foochow, payment of indemnity for the loss of Chinese lives, punishment of the Japanese ringleaders, and an apology from the offending consul.

The Japanese minister in Peking is ignoring the Chinese demand for a settlement and says he will continue to do so until the boycott is called off.

Dr. B. H. Orndoff of the Frances Willard hospital and I. S. Trostler of St. Joseph's have discovered a new method of obtaining clear and distinct X-ray pictures of organs affected in abdominal diseases—organs the ordinary X-ray does not reveal. Dr. O. H. McCandless of Kansas City pronounced it "the biggest discovery before the medical world today."

George Palmer, a Chicago tailor, married, and Sergt. A. K. Bush and Charles F. Reinert were arrested last night by Sheriff Baldwin at Camp Grant as a result of serious charges made by Marvel Hitchcock, a 13-year-old girl. By Using the Graduola You Can Really Play The AEOLIAN-VOCALION

The Phonograph Made by the World's Greatest Music House

THE children were responsible for my getting it. They had been asking for a phonograph for some time. When Christmas came, my wife said to me seriously, that I had better buy them one. It was an expensive one. It would cause them, and if we chose some good records, would undoubtedly help them in their music.

Later, as I entered a music store to order the latest talking machine, I heard an instrument that was won my genuine interest. This phonograph was playing an orchestral record and the orchestration was really splendid. I'd never heard anything on a phonograph like it. The strings, woodwinds, and brasses had an immediately recognized natural quality.

I Hear the Vocalion
A salesman, noting my interest, volunteered to further inform me. The first thing I noted was the beauty of the case. They were simple and in very good taste. After playing two or three vocal and instrumental records, which only strengthened my favorable impression of the instrument's tone, the salesman said, "Now I'll show you the Graduola, which makes the Vocalion different from all other phonographs."

Putting in a record of "Sweet and Low," he drew a slender, flexible tube out of the instrument and took the little metal device with which it terminated in his hands.

I Play the Vocalion
The spirit of the music gripped him. His eyes sparkled for joy and his body was slightly swaying and he was holding the Graduola to his breast almost as though it were a violin. He was feeling the melody and was giving color to it from his own emotion. The music was actually playing!

"Let me try it," I said. And I played record after record. It was a very, very wonderful experience. The two criticisms I'd had of the phonograph were gone. The tone of the Vocalion was natural, without stridency, and here this revolutionary Graduola was taking all the stereotyped quality out of its music.

I Buy the Aeolian-Vocalion
Even without its splendid tone and other features that make it the greatest phonograph I'd ever heard, the Graduola was enough. No one with a spark of musical feeling could fail to appreciate the tremendous advance this was in the phonograph. Somewhat to my surprise I found the Vocalion cost no more than other high-class phonographs. So I cancelled my order for the little instrument and bought a handsome, though reasonably priced, model of the Vocalion.

We are absolutely delighted with it. We show it to all our friends and they are equally pleased. I have nothing to say against other phonographs. They are undoubtedly, many of them, fine instruments, but the Graduola, alone, makes the Vocalion absolutely supreme amongst all such instruments.

The Aeolian-Vocalion is made in a variety of models priced from $50 to $700. Convenient terms of payment can be arranged.

KEEP CHICAGO TRADE INFANT, NEW YORK CRY

Gothamites Oppose Plan to Deepen the St.
Lawrence.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Chicago and its commercial projects came in for harsh criticism today during a discussion of the proposed improvement of the St. Lawrence river for ocean traffic before the national rivers and harbors conference.

George Clinton of Buffalo, N. Y., was the chief critic of Chicago. He opposed the St. Lawrence project after H. H. Merrick, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, Senators Townsend of Michigan, and Leonard of Wisconsin, and Alexander T. Vreeland, assistant secretary of the interior, had made addresses favoring it. Edward F. Walsh, state superintendent of public works of New York, also objected to the St. Lawrence project, supporting the proposed ship canal from Oswego, N. Y., to the Hudson river.

Would Make Chicago Big Port.
Development of the St. Lawrence project as urged by the western speakers would make Chicago an ocean port, opening the way for the loading of deep sea vessels at Chicago and their passage through the lakes and out into the Atlantic through the Welland canal and the St. Lawrence river. The proposal is that the United States and Canada shall deepen the river by joint action.

Mr. Merrick discussed the three proposed routes between the lakes and the Atlantic.

Takes Slap at Chicago.
"This question is a sectional one," Mr. Clinton said. "Chicago is the great to-be ocean port if a successful St. Lawrence route is constructed. It will not be Duluth or Cleveland or Detroit. Chicago won't let them."

"Chicago has constructed a drainage canal which doesn't take care of the sewage, but it does develop water at Lockport. Chicago is violating the laws of the United States in taking double the amount of water for her drainage canal allowed her. She is taking it to create electric power and in doing it she is lowering the normal level of Lake Erie and Lake Huron six inches. And in doing that to secure some 90,000 horsepower at Lockport she is depriving the Niagara river of water which is the equivalent of 300,000 horsepower."

LEGION FAVORS ARMY TRAINING FOR CIVILIANS

Presents Arguments to House Committee at Capital.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Universal military training and a small standing army were strongly advocated by a delegation representing the American Legion before the senate military affairs committee today. The delegation declared against the war department's universal training plan on the ground that it failed to recognize the necessity for preserving the local identity of fighting units.

Col. F. W. Galbraith of Cincinnati, commander of the 1st Ohio infantry of the 5th division, presented a statement on behalf of the delegation.

For Universal Training.
"The members of the American Legion," he said, "are deeply impressed with the folly of national unpreparedness for war, from the results of which they suffered while in France. They believe that this country should adopt a policy of universal military training as the only fair, democratic, and adequate system of defense."

Will Work in Illinois.
Col. Milton J. Foreman of Chicago, commander of the 123d field artillery of the 33d division, told the committee that the Illinois branch of the legion proposed to cover Illinois with literature showing the advantages of universal service.

He thought the people were inclined to be in favor of it in that section of the country, but believed that a campaign of education was necessary, particularly among the large foreign elements in Chicago.

Col. Foreman emphasized the necessity for preserving the local identity of units in military training. Each unit should be carefully identified with its community and the spirit of local pride should be carefully fostered, he said.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, one of the original promoters of universal service, bluntly said he thought that the proposal to create a citizen army would be defeated by the present congress.

Bolshevik Open Big Attack on the Narva Line

REVAL, Dec. 10.—The bolsheviks have begun a new offensive on the Narva front. After terrific artillery fire ten assaults were delivered on the Estonian positions. All the attacks were repulsed, the reports state, with heavy losses to the bolshevik forces. Prisoners declare that they were ordered to capture Narva. The chief of the Estonian general staff, Col. Rink, reports that the situation on the whole of the Estonian front is firm and that there is nothing to fear.

Although negotiations between the Estonians and the Russian soviet government, looking to the making of peace are in progress at Dorpat, no armistice has been arranged.

The Price of Pork Chops and Bacon

Here are reasons why the fine, fresh pork tenderloins and pork chops, or savory ham, or crinkly bacon, which you enjoy for breakfast, cost much more per pound than the market quotation on live hogs which you read in the newspaper:

An average hog weighs 220 pounds.

Of this, only 70 per cent (154 pounds) is meat and lard.

So, when we pay 15¢ a pound for live hogs, we are really paying more than 21¢ a pound for the meat which we will get from these animals, even after taking into account the value of the by-products.

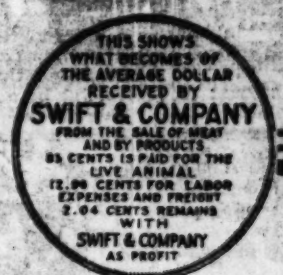

But people show a preference for only one-third of the whole—the pork chops, fancy bacon, and choice cuts from juicy hams.

This means that when we are selling Premium bacon at 43½¢ per pound wholesale and Premium hams at 30¢, there are other parts for which we get as low as 6¢ or 8¢ per pound. The net result is an average profit to us of less than 1¢ a pound.

The choice cuts are higher because of a demand for them.

Another thing: Only 35 pounds of the entire hog—or about 1/6th—is usually marketed at once. The rest must be pickled, cured, or smoked. This takes months, and adds to the costs which must be met.

TABOR SUSPECT KIDNED SIX WOMEN AT MOTHERHOOD

Virgo Makes Confession
at Trunk Mystery Inquest.

Lewiston, Mich., Dec. 10.—[Special.] Joseph Virgo, the undertaker, held in connection with the finding of the body of Maude Faith Tabor, embalmed and packed in a trunk with the body of a baby, made an unusual assertion today at the inquest.

He declared, under the hard questioning of the prosecutor, that he had married six women, and married them only when they were approaching motherhood. He married Miss Tabor, he said, late in 1915. She was then about 44 years old.

Both Died After Operation.
Mrs. Maude Faith Tabor Virgo died as the result of an operation, and the child died in the same operation.

Dr. A. S. Warthen, pathologist of the University of Michigan, testified to these facts, after making an examination of the bodies. He said there were no indications of poisoning. The body of the mother, he said, was not embalmed arterially, but it might have been embalmed through the abdomen.

Virgo Has Unpleasant Day.
Virgo spent a wearing day upon the stand. He contradicted himself numerous times, and then corrected the contradictions. He admitted he had not told the truth in several instances—especially concerning his half dozen marriages. He wanted to keep some of them from the knowledge of the public, he declared.

Prosecutor Warner then asked him if he had heard the story of Maude's mother, to the effect that she alone had disposed of the body. Virgo admitted it would have been impossible for her, 80 years old, to carry the body upstairs and force it into the narrow casket, then pile the shingles over the maternal coffin. Only a strong man could do this, he admitted.

New Customs Collector, Former Appraiser, and Aid Who Helped Pay Him Honors.

W. H. CLARE A. J. KEBBON

William H. Clare, after two impressive ceremonies yesterday, firmly seated himself at the helm of Uncle Sam's customs department.

Scores of friends bade him good-bye and good luck when he left his post as appraiser, after five years of service, and another company waited to help him into his new job of customs collector.

The oath was administered by Judge Samuel A. Schuler of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and Mr. Clare quietly took up the federal office vacated by the death a year ago of Rivers McNeill. A. J. Kebbon, chief examiner of the appraiser's office, presented Mr. Clare with a huge bouquet as he left his post there.

HATCHET BURIED IN CAMPAIGN TO BUILD NEW JAIL

Women Shelve Pet
Plans to Bring
Early Action.

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

County officials, social workers, and club women who have for years worked at cross purposes in plans for a new county jail got together yesterday and buried the hatchet after a few final flourishes of it by W. T. Davies, county jailer, Miss Grace Abbot, and Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen.

The occasion was a luncheon given at the La Salle hotel by Mrs. W. L. Lowenbach of the jail committee of the Chicago Woman's club, and attended by representatives of the Union League club, the Woman's City club, the Political Equality league, the county superintendent's office and various social settlements.

Dr. Orlando Lewis, secretary of the New York Prison association, had been asked to speak his mind about the Cook County jail, which he visited Tuesday with Mr. Davies.

"It's a crime factory," he said. "There is nothing for the prisoners to do except swap stories of crime and hatch plans for more. There is, I understand, an appropriation for a teacher for the boys, but there is no teacher."

There are no adequate hospital facilities; there is no operating room and no psychiatric equipment. And I am not saying anything that Mr. Davies has not said himself.

"You're right," said Peter Reinberg, president of the county board. "It's a crime to have a jail like that in Cook county. You women have got to help us get a new one."

"We'd have had a new one long ago if the women hadn't blocked us in getting the bond issues," said Mr. Davies.

Mrs. Bowen, president of the Juvenile Protective association and the Woman's City club, spoke.

"We only fought the bond issues because we did not want the same kind of a jail to be erected as the one we have," she said. "We did not want to work until we were certain what kind of a jail was to be put up."

Mrs. B. Frank Brown, chairman of the reform department of the Woman's club, said: "I am sure the women will be willing to give up their pet plans if they can be shown a good plan by somebody else."

"Yes," said Mrs. Lowenbach, "let the dead past bury its dead, and let's all work together."

"Agreed," was the response. Some of the points upon which these present got together in their ideas for the new jail included single rooms for the unconvicted prisoners, adequate hospital equipment, and psychopathic examinations.

GRAND JURY INVESTIGATES.
Indictment for robbery was voted yesterday by the grand jury against eleven boys ranging in age from 16 to 19 years. Ten of the boys are in custody, Joe Lombardi, the ninth, having been caught yesterday. "Little Joe" Swallow is the only one at liberty.

Deaths in Chicago by Automobiles in 1919 to date

John C. Lewis, 44 years old, of 4148 Ellis avenue, died yesterday at the Illinois Central hospital of injuries received last Monday when he was struck by an automobile at Drexel boulevard and Forty-second place.

Mr. Lewis was born at Elizabeth town, Ohio, in 1876. He served in the federal army during the civil war, was wounded at the battle of Shiloh and was subsequently promoted to the rank of captain.

He came to Chicago in 1879 and was engaged in the lumber business until 1879, when he became connected with the N. K. Fairbank company. Later he was made manager of the Chicago refinery of the American Cotton Oil company, in which capacity he served until he retired in 1918.

The police are seeking the driver of the automobile that ran down John Brookman, 2235 West Twenty-first place, on Thanksgiving day, and caused injuries that resulted in his death. The police say witnesses clear the driver of blame.

THE COAL STRIKE ENDING.

A settlement of the coal strike has been reached on terms which will impress any fair mind with their reason and justice. The miners are insured a substantial increase of their pay and a thorough investigation of their claims, with a pledge that their wages and conditions of labor will be further amended if such investigation justifies.

But this sane conclusion ought to have been reached without the sacrifice of millions of dollars to the country. We must grant that mistakes were made on all sides. We make allowance for the fact that the miners had suffered injustice and that conditions in this basic industry had continued long without public protest or official relief. We are theoretically our brother's keeper, and the ethically the public ought to see that economic inequities and social injustices are not allowed to exist in this country. Nevertheless, the public cannot in practice be chargeable with neglect where conditions are not known, and ought not in justice to be held up, as at the point of a gun, to accept its parts.

We can understand that the workingman believes he ought to have a larger share of the products of enterprise. We can understand his persistent pressure for a division more favorable to him of the proceeds of industry. But when he adopts methods which are rapidly reducing these proceeds to nothing he is defeating himself, and it will be no consolation to him if his employer suffers with him.

We think not only the public but the membership of the United Mines Workers owe a solid debt of gratitude to Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green, who stood out staunchly against the radicals in the union and led the fight for rational settlement and peace. These two leaders have not only saved the country much suffering. They have saved their union. Let the miners have no doubt about that. Had the strikers followed the radical leadership that is bent on overturning the American government and system of industry they would have ended in their own destruction. The American public wanted the miners to have a fair hearing and redress of their real grievances, but if it had come to an issue on the folly of radicalism there would be a fight to a finish, and the finished would be the miners' union.

THE FIREMEN.

About every hundredth tinkle of the editorial typewriter bell is drowned out by the clangor of a passing fire engine. Perhaps that is a slight exaggeration. Sitting comfortably in an office that is heated in spite of the coal strike, a slight exaggeration in favor of the firemen won't hurt us or our gentle readers.

For with the mercury low our appreciation of the work of the firemen ought to be high. A wonderful service, always watchful, skillful, daring, self-sacrificing—and in such days as these triply unpleasant and dangerous.

Fires multiply in winter and the worse the weather the more they multiply. Coal economies do not seem to reduce them. The weak spots in heating systems, the weak spots in the human beings that tend them, break through at such a time, and the firemen pay the price along with the property owner—and sometimes the tenant.

We take the fireman for granted. His service, arduous, full of discomfort and danger, we accept with only an occasional thought—when the gongs are heard in the night or the companies charge through the city crowds.

But they are heroes of peace, soldiers fighting an unending warfare in our defense. Here's to the firemen, our first class fighting men.

MEXICAN RELATIONS.

The president, having satisfied a senatorial committee that he is well enough to consider the Mexican problem, is now said to be studying recent material provided him by Senator Fall and by the state department. It is not probable he will find in this data anything essentially different from what has transpired in the last five years of Mexican disorder. Certainly the temper of Carranza and his policy of persistent insolence and hostility need no more proof. Mexican conditions are known. Our rights, our interests, our responsibilities are known. Perhaps, indeed, the European governments, which with their hands full at home have left it to us to handle the Mexican problem, may be growing impatient. But on the whole what reason is there to hope for a change in our Mexican policy?

Nothing on the surface, and yet Mr. Wilson might well consider whether it is not worth while to get something done before the chapter of his Mexican policy closes. To a statesman having regard to the verdict of posterity, thought of the costly futility of that policy might disturb the most ingrained complacency.

Mr. Wilson has something over a year to act. He may prefer to pass the situation as it is to his successor. If he does so history will credit him with a failure difficult to excuse, and a successor whose policy is founded not on theory but on reality and directed with resolution upon the lines of world development will reap the honors which come to successful statesmanship.

The relations of the United States to Mexico cannot possibly remain what Mr. Wilson's experiment has made them during five critical years. Our instinct of self-preservation will not permit Mexico to remain an exposed flank, an open door to any foe, a breeding ground for perpetual disturbance and danger. Neither will the progress of civilization and the pressure of the world's needs permit a part of the globe so rich in resources to remain undeveloped. Forces which are stronger than any idealistic theories will settle our relations with Mexico and it will be the privilege of Mr. Wilson, if he will, or of another to give these forces effect.

needs permit a part of the globe so rich in resources to remain undeveloped. Forces which are stronger than any idealistic theories will settle our relations with Mexico and it will be the privilege of Mr. Wilson, if he will, or of another to give these forces effect.

CHARITY AT HOME.

The American purse has been pretty responsive to the appeal of sufferers in all parts of the world. Since the world war began, sums greater than ever before were assembled for relief have been subscribed by the people of this country.

This service is not begrudged by any American. We were fortunate in escaping the terrible devastation and demoralization of warfare. It was our privilege to give freely, and we have freely given.

But we have a nearer duty toward those in our own country who are needy and suffering. Charity begins at home, is a well worn proverb but worth obeying. We should like it better if there were no needy in this land of the free. But since there are, our first duty is toward them.

The harsh winter of our northern climate is upon us. Thousands of men, women, and children must be aided to defend themselves against its rigors. There is an intense need for American benevolence. We hope our efforts for the destitute of France and Belgium, of Russia and Poland, have not weakened our sense of responsibility for our own neighbors. Home charities are calling. Let the answer be quick and generous.

The United Charities, the Associated Catholic Charities, the Associated Jewish Charities, the Salvation Army, the Volunteers of America, This Tribune Good Fellows, and other well run and responsible relief organizations of narrower reach, such as the Fort Sheridan hospital relief and the regimental auxiliaries for soldiers and organizations in the foreign born colonies, all are under pressure at this time. Let Chicago give, and give in her own liberal spirit, for the need is great.

WANTED—UNIVERSAL MILITARY SERVICE.

Here is the axiom of universal military service. It is from Gen. Wood. "We want the fewest possible number of men in uniform and the largest possible number ready to jump into khaki."

That is the military policy for a republic. It is the reverse of militaristic. It is a policy of safety without waste. It makes the citizen a soldier in need but does not keep him as a soldier in barracks. Able Americans of experience and wisdom are talking sense. Congress is preparing to give the United States a regular army without reserves. It will be sufficiently large, if not too large, for the need the nation has of a regular army and too small for the need it may have for an army.

It will represent a continuance of our old, ineffective, expensive system. If we ever get into trouble, this army will not be large enough. It will not be large enough to keep us out of trouble. It will not be large enough to carry us through trouble.

We shall not have the men ready to jump into khaki, trained, organized, and equipped. We shall have to pass another selective draft law, build cantonments, train officers, take another year and a half, and probably the next time the enemy will be on our necks before we can do it.

All this could be avoided, the peace of the nation assured, if the congressional jack rabbits were not afraid that they would lose some fur if they gave the nation a rational military policy by adopting universal military service.

SAVE TO PAY THE DEBT.

It is apparent that if there is a $3,000,000,000 national deficit it must be met by that much money from the people. A large proportion of it must be collected from the people in the form of income taxes. If the people are extravagant the income tax will be burdensome. If they are economical the tax will touch lightly.

It should be obvious in view of high prices and the $3,000,000,000 deficit that prudence and economy must take the place of carelessness and prodigality if we are to prosper nationally and individually. The fact that we spend money, however prudently, does not provide escape from the duty of the income tax. The tax only makes more apparent the need for more prudence. The tax is on the income, not on what is left of the income after we buy what we want. The fewer things we buy the greater will be the reserve out of which the tax must come. If we dissipate that reserve we invite burdens.

The greatest complaint against the income tax will be heard from those who fail to lay aside a sinking fund to meet it. Those who recognize the national emergency and their own obligations to the government by saving will be least embarrassed by the revenue collector.

The important thing to remember is that money foolishly spent is twice lost. It should be a saving and a contribution to the government.

Editorial of the Day

THRIFTY SPENDING.

(From the Moline Dispatch.)

"Thrifty" is a word that is setting on people's nerves. Why talk about thrift, when everything is so high that saving is an impossibility? It is a natural and frequent plea. It is a word that needs to be carefully defined.

As a matter of fact, thrift does not necessarily mean saving. It means wise spending. It is perfectly possible for a person to be thrifty and yet not save a cent. The man who figures out his just expenses fairly in accordance with his income, and then holds himself to his schedule, is the thrifty man even though he has to part with every penny he makes.

But the beauty of this thrifty business is that when the spender comes to figure out his expenses, making fair allowance for each necessity, and honestly balancing his present desires and his future needs, he finds the least which perhaps for many years has kept him out in the storm financially. Then out of his thrift develops his saving.

Priests never were so high, business never was more disturbed, the future never more uncertain. Yet it is probably safe to say that never were there more people of small or average incomes doing systematic saving. Such people are bearing the pressure of the times with unflinching calm because of this habit. But the saving is a by-product. The original product is wise spending, buying nothing that one does not need, and discouraging, not encouraging, the prodigal.

The adventurer in thrift who longs to join this army of the financially secure should begin his career not necessarily with any idea of saving, but rather with all his energies centered upon his spending. Then if he will remember that nothing is worth having if it must be paid for by it, except the bare necessities of life, he will soon find himself a member of the army whose best weapon is a bank account.

GETTING THEM TOGETHER.

Looks as if the only way to get capital and labor together is to keep them from meeting—Brooklyn Eagle.

THE threatened deficit in government revenue can be met easily by increasing the tax on the income of that large class of citizens whose salaries are the same to-day as in, say, 1914. It is safe to tax this class, as it never effectively protests.

FURTHER REASON FOR BELIEVING THAT THE END OF THE WORLD IS AT HAND.

"Sun, moon and stars forgot." Other stars, maybe, but not the morning star and never as it looks under a heavy sky.

Five o'clock it hangs in the eastern heavens like a transient beacon for those lucky enough to have it beam upon them. Late in a baby moon, a tender young crescent, has kept it company.

CHAOS IN MEXICO LEAD TO WILSON'S PATIENT TACTICS

Gould Says Carranza Oil Embargo Cripples U.S.
Shipping.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Mexican hostility to America and efforts to add to industrial unrest in this country is charged by Representative Gould, New York, as the true purpose of the present drive by the Carranza government to prevent shipment of fuel oil from Mexico into this country and the bringing in of new supplies by Americans on their own oil fields in Mexico.

Chairman John Barton Payne of the shipping board this afternoon laid before the president and the secretary of state memoranda showing the injurious effect on the American merchant marine of curtailment of the Mexican fuel oil supply and emphasizing the necessity for giving protection to American interests in Mexico.

"Responsibility for the whole situation rests with President Wilson," Mr. Gould said. "Until the president makes it clear to the so-called government of Mexico that no step by the United States will be considered too drastic if necessary to protect our citizens and their rights, the people of this country will suffer."

How They Regard President.
Further testimony taken by the committee investigating Mexican affairs was made public today in the testimony of W. F. Buckley, an American lawyer long resident in Tampico and one of the well known men of the American colony in Mexico.

"Luis Cabrera, Mexican minister of finance told me very frankly," Buckley testified, "that the menace of the American in Mexico must be removed and that the only way to do this was to drive him out and take his property."

"He said Wilson was opposed to capital in Mexico, and everywhere else, so matter to whom the capital be- longed, and that in expelling the Amer- ican from Mexico, the constitutional- ists would receive the sympathy of the American government."

Carranza Edict Wins.
Mexico City, Dec. 10.—The senate to- day, after months of intermittent de- lay, adopted the petroleum bill sub- mitted by the president, which acts as a amendment to article 27 of the con- stitution. The bill now goes to the lower house for approval.

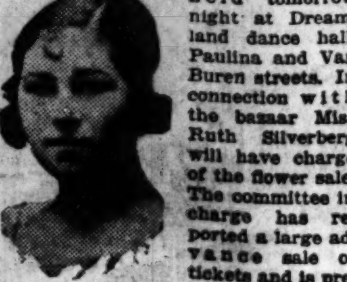

Try Cop as Xank Slayer.
Mexico City, Dec. 10.—Francisco Gomez, a policeman, is being tried in court today on a charge of killing James Lack, an American, here last month. The trial is expected to con- tinue several days.

How They Regard Carranza.
San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 10.—A fac- simile letter published in El Demo- crata, a Mexico City newspaper, and reported to have been written by Carranza, the man who captured Con- stitucionalists, says Jenkins desired to be kidnapped to prove Carranza was able to afford protection to foreign- ers.

The statement declares that but for the efforts of Mr. Jenkins the British consular agent would have been kid- naped at the same time.

GET EVIDENCE IN WATERMAN WILL FORGERY TRIAL

Lawyer Tells of Interest
Shown by Carleton
Hudson.

James C. Ehle, an attorney, was the first witness called by the state yesterday in the case against Carleton Hudson, also known as Carleton Hudson, on trial before Judge Zeman on charges of forgery of the late Judge Arba Waterman's will.

Ehle testified that he has had conversations with Hudson in which the latter admitted a selfish interest in the designation of Moody church as residuary legatee of the estate of the late judge.

Ehle also stated that the defendant had expressed a desire to get the judge out of the state so that papers could not be served which appointed a conservator of the estate.

Sought Control of Estate.
The witness further testified that Hudson had told him in 1915 that he had employed two attorneys to get possession of the interest in the estate of Moses Waterman, the judge's half brother.

On cross examination Ehle admitted that he had held nominal legal title for the "Big Five" packers to approximately $2,000,000 worth of cottonseed oil in Texas.

Counsel for defense attempted to bring out that Ehle had given Hudson the impression that the land was his, and that acting on this belief Hudson signed notes for Ehle and obtained money on them.

Admits Giving Notes.
The witness denied this charge, but admitted that Hudson had come to him frequently and received notes for which he did not receive consideration.

Assistant State's Attorney John Prydzinski declared in his opening statement that he intended to prove to the jury that the defendant had married and schemed to obtain for himself the bulk of the property of the late Judge Waterman. He declared Hudson forged the signature of a will which gave the residue of the estate to Moody church.

In an attempt to bring the trial to a speedy close Judge Zeman today will hold court from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

ASK TAX RULING ON $1,332,998 WARD ESTATE

Trustees of the $1,332,998 estate of Eber B. Ward, former Chicagoan, who died in Nice, France, May 5, 1915, yesterday appealed to the Superior court to decide which portion of the estate shall bear the burden of inheritance taxes amounting to $78,207.

Ward was a brother of the late Clara Ward Rockwell, formerly the Princess Chimay, the "madcap princess" who ran away with Janczy Rigo, a spy and riddler.

Ward's marriages and divorces gained for him almost as much publicity as the madcap pranks of his sister.

His will stipulated that John K. Lyon, John W. Gary, and Calvin Fentress, as trustees, should establish a fund of $700,000 for his daughter, Yolande, and other funds for two other daughters and his "natural son," E. B. Ward Jr., now 9 years old, is "my natural son, born in lawful wedlock."

The trustees are in doubt as to whether the inheritance tax should be paid by the Yolande Ward fund of $700,000 or distributed among the various funds proportionally.

RE-ELECT PARK BOARD OFFICIALS.
Officials of the Lincoln park board were re-elected yesterday, and all the old contracts for feeding the zoo animals and other services, were renewed.

Oak Park Trade League Regulars Win in Scrap

The Oak Park Commercial association elected its regular ticket last night at the Elks club by a 2 to 1 vote, but only after there had been some hot words between the two factions.

The regulars charged that the Progressive party, made up of younger men, wished to "rule or ruin" the association and shove out the "mossbacks." The Progressives asserted the association needed more young ideas, more "pep."

Charles Carlstrom headed the victorious regulars.

CAPTURE $2,000 TRENCH IN YANK CHRISTMAS FUND

Swift Post, First Legion
Branch to Respond,
Gives $25 Check.

Attabo! The $2,000 trench was taken yesterday and friends of the 3,000 wounded soldiers at the Fort Sheridan hospital are rushing towards the $3,000 trench. It is hoped this will be taken today.

A contribution of $25 was received last night from the Gen. John Swift post of the American Legion, the first post of the veterans' organization to respond. This brought yesterday's contributions up to $555.50, making a grand total of $2,025.15 for far received.

"One hundred and fifty-four Swift & Co. men were wounded in the great war," reads the letter accompanying the check. "Seven are still in the hospital at Fort Sheridan. To help in making the Christmas of these seven and of several thousand comrades a little more happy we are sending you a check for $25. This goes with the kindest wishes and heartiest salute of the members of the Gen. John Swift post."

In the same mail came a check for $25 from Mrs. C. F. Swift. "Though my two sons named going across by a few days," reads another letter. "I am for the boys, wounded or not, heart and soul, and wish I could send very much more."

Have you sent your contribution or have you forgotten the boys who did a big job in a big way? Don't put it off too long. Gifts must be obtained early by the committees in charge. They are doing the work, giving their time and money as well, and all you are asked to give is your share, big or little, to help make the Christmas fund go over the top.

Address your contributions, check or money, care of the cashier, Two CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Let's pass the $3,000 trench today.

Ice Cooled Booze Makes Things Hot for Stanley

GRAND JURY TO HEAR REVENUE SCANDAL TODAY

Indictment of agents of the internal revenue department guilty of liquor graft and of principals in the recent sale of $100,000 worth of Isadore Gumbiner's whiskey, which was spirited away from the Sibley warehouse, will be asked by District Attorney Charles F. Clynne before the federal grand jury today.

Heads of the various revenue department branches also will appear before the jury. Government officials declare at least three Washington investigators are prepared to testify concerning charges field agents have been selling booze gathered in raids and affording protection to lid tilters "on the inside."

No additional resignations were reported, but officials admitted search is being made for one revenue man believed to have been implicated in the recent moving of a large quantity of alcohol. Fifty saloonkeepers are said to be involved in the resale of the Gumbiner whiskey. It was sold in three days' time, according to investigators, priced running from $85 to $100 a case of twelve quarts.

14 DAYS TO CHRISTMAS.

Mr. Good Fellow: Christmas is only fourteen days away. There are only about ten days left in which you can do your work effectively. After that it may be too late to get in touch with that family you intended to help. In the rush of the last moment some one is apt to be overlooked. We don't want that to happen. Neither do you. If one family in Chicago goes without a Christmas then we have failed and you have failed. Your Christmas will be judged by the thought of what might have been. Call on Central 125, 126, 127, or 128 today and leave your name. Or fill out the blank provided for your convenience and mail it or bring it in to the Good Fellow desk on the first floor of the Tribune building today.

A central bureau of registration for all Christmas Good Fellow work in Chicago is to be established through the cooperation of the United Charities, settlement, churches, societies, clubs, institutions, The Tribune, and organizations which participate in the work of distributing gifts among the needy at Twelfth. This was decided upon yesterday at a meeting held at the City Club.

The meeting was called by Lucius F. Taylor, president of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies, representing 155 organizations, and was attended by representatives of practically all the leading welfare organizations in the city. The bureau, as described by Miss Anna S. Sear, will serve the double purpose of "conserving the altruistic spirit of Christmas" and "stretching this gift will" to cover a greater number of cases.

Will Eliminate Duplication.
Jed D. Hunter, assistant superintendent of the United Charities, read a report of the social service committee of Los Angeles on the work accomplished by a similar bureau established there. It showed that at least 10 per cent of the duplication of effort on the part of Good Fellows had been eliminated.

Mr. Harriet Vittum, speaking for the settlement, declared they were interested in the avoidance of duplication of Christmas baskets only in so far as it resulted in many needy families going without Christmas aid.

"This bureau," said Miss Sear, "is needed not so much to prevent duplication as to stretch what we have to cover all cases and all needs. Through a card index system we could send several Good Fellows to the same family each carrying a separate necessity."

Affiliation Urged.

The plan was endorsed by D. M. Deinger, auditor of The Tribune, who has directed the Good Fellow work for the last six years. He offered the financial, moral and physical support of

The Tribune in establishing the bureau.

"We have our own bureau for clearing names," he said, "but of course we have been handicapped by the lack of cooperation of all the agencies working toward the same end. We owe it to the Good Fellow to see that he is given a deserving family and that his spirit of good will is not imposed upon such a bureau will aid greatly in reaching all the people. The Tribune will guarantee to furnish the Good Fellows if the bureau furnishes the names of the families and children to be reached."

Wilfred M. Reynolds was appointed chairman of a committee which will meet today in room 1728 Stevens building to perfect the plans for the bureau.

Landis Dismisses Suit,
but Warns Comet Auto Co.

Judge Landis dismissed his investigation into the stock selling scheme of the Comet Automobile company of Decatur, Ill., yesterday, but not before he had spoken his mind concerning its operations.

"You go to Springfield on the jump," he told Arthur B. Steuben, an employee of the secretary of state's office, "and report to Secretary Emerson. You owe it to him to tell him your connections with this stock selling company."

He warned George W. Jager, president, against overstepping the legal bounds in selling Comet stock.

A new way of washing

You just soak your clothes clean instead of the old rubbing and boiling

JUST imagine your clothes washing themselves for you overnight!

Imagine their washing themselves without any washing "machinery" whatsoever—no boiler, no wash-board, no washing machine, or suction funnel.

You just put your clothes to soak—with a new soap product.

You have been told so often of machines that would wash your clothes for you, of products that would get the dirt out without any work on your part, that the story of this new product is going to be hard for you to believe.

It is hard to believe that a simple soap product, absolutely harmless, can, just by a soaking overnight, so loosen the dirt in your clothes that when they are rinsed in the morning, all the dirt comes out.

As a matter of fact, if the overnight soaking is inconvenient, three hours soaking will accomplish the same wonderful result.

All you have to do is to take them out and rinse them!

And they are snowy white and clean! Only a few very soiled places, like cuff edges, need a light rubbing between your hands.

That is what RINSOL is doing for thousands of women who have already secured it. It has changed their whole way of washing.

And those same women felt as you now feel, when they first heard of RINSOL'S wonderful results—they couldn't believe it!

And now they are like Mrs. Terry—whose letter is given here—they have found that the old way of washing is gone—and that the new RINSOL way of soaking your clothes clean has entirely eliminated the hardest work a housewife has to do—wash-day boiling and rubbing.

Use RINSOL yourself this week—see how it really soaks your clothes clean—see if you don't feel just as enthusiastic as Mrs. Terry does.

Get RINSOL today from your grocer, and follow the simple directions on the package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass. (Makers of Lux.)

"Soaking Clothes is Certainly Easier Than Rubbing Them"
says Mrs. Terry

"When I first used Rinsol I thought if it only saved half of the usual rubbing it would be wonderful. The directions for mixing it up were easy to follow—and I got a beautiful sudsy tubful for the clothes to soak in over night. And in the morning—most of the dirt dropped right out in the Rinsol suds, as I washed the clothes up and down. One or two really ground-in spots came out like magic when I put a little dry Rinsol on the spots and rubbed lightly between my hands. Two good rinsings and the clothes were beautifully white and ready for the line at 9 o'clock instead of not till noon. There wasn't any of the exhausting work that washing had always meant before. Soaking clothes clean is certainly easier than rubbing."

Mrs. M. A. Terry, New York City.

This shows how the Ft. Dearborn National Bank saves electric light and lengthens the working hours by using 60 Aladdin Kerosene Mantle Lamps.

Solving The Light Problem

Thousands of Chicago firms are meeting the situation and avoiding the necessity of closing on account of the curtailment of electric or gas light by using Aladdin Kerosene Mantle Lamps. In order to further conserve fuel, some are even using the Aladdin exclusively. At this season of the year every moment counts. You can help save and at the same time add an hour or two to the day's work of your office force by securing

Aladdin

Kerosene Mantle Lamps

New to the city but over a million in use in country homes. The Aladdin burns common kerosene and by incandescing a mantle produces a white light more powerful than a 60 Watt tungsten electric. Is simple, safe, odorless, noiseless and does not require pumping up. Tested and approved by United States Bureau of Standards and 35 leading universities. Won the Gold Medal at the Panama Exposition.

Passed by Underwriters

You can use the Aladdin without in any way affecting your insurance. Tested by the Underwriters' Laboratories, is acceptable to the Board of Underwriters and sanctioned by Chicago Fire Prevention Bureau.

Investigate at Once Before the Supply
Is Exhausted

The tremendous demand for the Aladdin is fast exhausting our stock. Do not wait until it is too late to supply your requirements. Orders will be taken care of in the order received so long as stock lasts.

AMERICAN LEAGUE LOYALISTS ELECT NEW DIRECTORS

SECURITY POWER
USED IN BATTLE
AT N. Y. MEETING

Guested Board Plans Court
Fight; Refuse to "Fire"
Johnson.

New York, Dec. 10.—American league members, flanked by a squad of armory, battled for hours today in an annual meeting and when the session ended President B. B. Johnson was surrounded by a new board of directors favorable to his policies. The league clubs were outvoted on every proposition that came before the meeting and went down fighting and serving sentences which promise to carry the disputed points into court, where decisions may not be reached for months.

A resolution to elect a new president in place of Johnson was defeated, five yeas to three, and the new board of directors, consisting of Frank Navin, Detroit; Tim Lincecum, Philadelphia; Thomas Dillie, Philadelphia; and P. D. East, St. Louis, was elected by the yeas.

Navin Supplanted Comby.
Navin was selected as vice president in the manner, supplanting Comby, who had been elected to that position at the annual meeting of the league in St. Louis, Mo., last year.

The session opened with a meeting of the board of directors, consisting of Comby, Navin, Lincecum, Dillie, East, Johnson, and Johnson's executive. Trouble developed immediately over the election of a chairman and Johnson and Comby left the conference.

Comby Made Chairman.
Comby was then named to preside, although word was sent to Johnson that he would return to the meeting to take the chair, but he refused.

Johnson members present then proceeded to elect a new chairman, who was charged Johnson with exceeding his duties as an employee of the league.

The meeting of the league as a whole followed and during the session Comby was elected chairman, and it was agreed that the committee on the league's affairs should be organized.

The noise and activity attracted a number of hotel guests and soon a riotous scene developed with curious remarks and remarks of acrimony being made and remarks of acrimony being made.

TO RESIGN HIS PLACE
AS COMMISSION CHIEF

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Before the National League club owners concluded their annual meeting today, Chairman Herrmann of the national commission stated that he was willing to resign from that position. In a brief speech the commission club president said he agreed that no man who is a club owner or is interested financially in baseball should hold such a position in what is virtually the high court of baseball.

"Thirty days hence," he said, "if conditions exist as they do today, with five men in the American league favoring my retaining the office and ten club owners in both major leagues opposed to it, I will resign so as to relieve the situation."

There was a discussion about the use of the "spitball" and other fraud deliveries. Every club owner went on record as being opposed to such plying, and a recommendation was made to the joint rules committee to this effect.

Comby was then named to preside, although word was sent to Johnson that he would return to the meeting to take the chair, but he refused.

Johnson members present then proceeded to elect a new chairman, who was charged Johnson with exceeding his duties as an employee of the league.

The meeting of the league as a whole followed and during the session Comby was elected chairman, and it was agreed that the committee on the league's affairs should be organized.

The noise and activity attracted a number of hotel guests and soon a riotous scene developed with curious remarks and remarks of acrimony being made and remarks of acrimony being made.

CHICAGO CLUBS PLAN BIGGEST WINTER OF
ICE SKATING RACES

With skating permitted at Humboldt and Garfield parks, in addition to the smaller parks and playgrounds, officials of the Western Skating association have made plans for the greatest year in the local history of ice skating.

Although plans have been nearly completed, the board of control will hold a special meeting at 2312 West North avenue tomorrow night to elect a new chairman and pass on other matters of interest to the association.

The board already has issued sanctions for skating derbies to be held by local clubs on every Sunday during the skating season.

Sleipner Derby First.
The local ice racing season will be ushered in on New Year's day, when the Sleipner A. C., the oldest skating organization in Chicago, will hold its annual derby at Humboldt park.

Following the western title events a picked team of Chicago skaters will be sent to St. Paul to compete in the northwest championships and to Saratoga Lake, N. Y., to race in the international championships.

Washington Park Opens
Carling Rinks Again
Three sheets of fine ice await the curiers at the Washington Park rink and the knights of the broom expect to start practice today. Last year, on account of the war, the rink was not opened, but all the usual tournaments will be staged this season.

In the Wake of the News

BILL'S PA IS PEEVED.
When Mister Jenson called the other night he said how peeved he was to see that he had to wait so long for his paper. He said to me good lord this house is hot stuff to burn as an' nudged our paper as they went down to the furnace. When they came back it looked to me like pay was even hotter.

For ever now on then he drank a quart or two of water. He never spoke so loud before but Mister Jenson merrily agreed yes yes I see I see that's the way you put it clearly.

This H. C. L. to E. E. L. pop stated ten times twenty. My goat is got he said an' panned the profits' ears a plenty. The price of eggs an' shoes an' cloths he turned a sin an' pity. But wet goods 'stid of dry goods seemed the birds' of his ditty: The stuff a man must drink's a crime an' insult to his deity. He'd love to get the prohibitions by their skinny necks an' twist 'em! An' then he lammed the government an' capitol an' labor. Till Mister Jenson said poppette I've had a swell time naybor.

We went to bed soon after that an' pop he quit his squawk. The conversation still kept up, but was SHE done the talkin'.

COL. STUART ORDERS
CADDOK BOUT MUST
BEGIN AT 10 O'CLOCK

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Col. James E. Stuart, commander of the 11th Infantry, I. N. G., which will stage the finish wrestling match between Champion Earl Caddock and Sam Clapham at the Second Regiment armory on Dec. 13, yesterday announced the principals in the main bout must be in the ring at 10 o'clock.

This action, according to Col. Stuart, was taken because of the many requests from wrestling fans asking that the show terminate at a reasonable hour. As only one preliminary and the semi-final bout between Johnny Meyers and Ben Rueben will be staged, it is expected winners of these contests will be determined before the hour set for the main event.

Soldiers to Run Things.
The colonel also announced that the show will be handled by members of the regiment. The soldiers will sell and take the tickets, act as ushers, construct the ring and make other arrangements for the staging of the show, which will make it a strictly military affair.

Tickets on Sale Today.
Tickets will be placed on sale today at Bloom & Mayer's, 4 North Clark street, and at the Second Regiment armory, Madison and Rockwell streets.

MOSTLY NEWS.
THE cold snap has put the nearby hunting pretty much on the blink but reports from the lower Illinois say ducks and geese are plentiful. Many ducks are being killed in the vicinity of Havana and Beardstown and farther down the goose hunting is good.

The law this year gives us two weeks more open season but the weather man is doing his worst to see that we don't get it. Sloughs and timber holes are frozen tight as a drum and those who want hunting near Chicago will have to try their hands at the big lake where a few werry werry ducks are still holding out.

Rabbit shooting has been good up to the present cold snap which caused most of the bunnies to hole up. A break in the weather and a little snow would fix things right for cottontail hunters.

The quail season in Illinois closed yesterday. So far as the northern and central parts of the state are concerned it was a poor season. Many local hunters have given up hunting quail in Illinois and have been doing their shooting in Kentucky. The birds are more plentiful there, the weather is usually more pleasant and the season longer—closes Jan. 1. The nonresident license fee is only $7.50.

Fishing through the ice is now all the northern angler has left. A number of big "picks" were caught in the Fox lake region recently. In fact we have noticed that the biggest fish ever caught in that region are usually taken in the winter.

H. P. and Phillips Fives
Split Even in Two Games
Hyde Park and Phillips split even in a basketball double header at Phillips yesterday afternoon. Hyde Park, with Center Simmons, occupying the limelight role, won the heavyweight encounter, 13 to 5. The home lightweight made a runaway of their game, 21 to 4. Mayer shooting five baskets and Waddell four.

BUY FISH TODAY TO PUT ONE OVER
ON OLD H. C. L.

Hundreds Solve Problem
at The Tribune Fish Market: Try It.

"That is the kind of fish we used to eat in my old home in Norway," said a visitor from the Norwegian fish market at Milwaukee, who was standing on the street, looking at a box of fine haddock packed in ice which had been shipped from Boston.

The Norwegian families in the neighborhood soon heard of this opportunity to get their favorite food. So a crowd gathered and the boxes of fish were soon disposed of. Several purchasers took home ten pound lots of fish.

There will be an opportunity today and tomorrow not only to buy haddock, a fine, meaty fish of the Atlantic, but eight other varieties of fresh fish from this water. The list of markets and the prices will be found in another part of this paper.

How It's Done.
 "Putting out THE TUNAHOOD too they" asked one customer.
 It is done through arrangement with a fish distributing company which is handling the biggest shipments out of the New England coast. From there, the fish are sent to cars loaded with fish are sent out of Boston every week for the middle west. Some are dropped off at Detroit, Pittsburgh, and other cities. Two cars a week are being sent to Chicago now and more cars will be added to the string as soon as the fish are ready. The feeding of this food as a regular article of diet. The United States department of agriculture has long been preaching the value of fish as food. It takes the place of meat in the diet.

Visit one of THE TRIBUNE markets today and test these fish for freshness. The head of the fish is the most important, although herring is added to the list this week at 10 cents a pound. The haddock, which is sold for 11 cents, brings from 23 to 28 cents in local markets. Some of the leader in the offering, their prices to meet THE TRIBUNE prices.

The way to buy fish is to know which kind is plentiful and in season. Fish should not be put into rooms where there is a lot of heat. The fish should be laid on a flat surface. With a sharp knife make an incision in the back, at the base of the head. Continue this to the tail, cutting the fish on one side only. This operation, repeated with the other side of the fish, gives two long Fish should always be fried like doughnuts, in deep fat. Bacon drippings are good. Butter should not be used. The fish should be cooked until well browned and then removed and allowed to drain, but not to grow cool, before serving.

PURCHASER PAYS AS APPLES AND POTATOES SPOIL

Expanded reconsignments and delays in shipping and packing are the reasons for the loss. Through shipment of 108,770 pounds of potatoes and 12,023 pounds of apples since Dec. 5, according to City Food Director P. J. Purchinsky are paying for them at prices in the "great high prices," he said. "The loss of the 108,770 pounds of potatoes alone amounted to $4,260. "One car contained 714 boxes of apples, or 35,720 pounds. The freight on this car was $1,200. The tax on the apples $60, making a total of $161, which must be added demurrage charges and the loss of the contents of the car. Car No. 100 contained 530 boxes, or 26,500 pounds. The total charges were $485, which is in addition to the loss of the contents value. "When brokers have such losses on new cars, they are not sure what must be added to the price of the apples that are sold. "Apples are now retailing for as high as two for 25 cents."

Catastrophe Dec. 17, Weather Chief Declares

Washington, D. C. Dec. 16.—"Alarm predictions of severe atmospheric disturbances," to occur between Dec. 17 and 19, were disseminated today by the weather bureau without untimely explanation.

The conjunction of certain planets in their consequent speed influence the sun on which the predictions extensively based," said C. F. March, chief of the bureau. "Have occurred before without any unusual conditions resulting, and there is no ground for expecting any extraordinary happenings at this time."

Man in Coma in Hospital

The police are investigating the attack on a man believed to be John J. Ryan of 1941 Prairie avenue. He is believed to have been slain by a mob Tuesday night in Wittembe. He is St. Francis' hospital, apparently paralyzed and in a coma. A letter in his pocket indicates he is a former soldier, who was wounded, and he was married Thanksgiving day, concerning him could be secured at the Prairie avenue.

General Dodge ... Thomas Guise

Miss Sergeant ... Wade Boteler
Scott ... Alfred Hollingsworth
A ... S. Linsky
The General's Aide ... Jack Nelson

By Mae Tinée.
Mr. Ince wants you to meet his two new stars, Douglas MacLean and Doris May. I don't wonder he wants you to meet them! Two more delightful young people have rarely been featured on the screen. There is youth, wholesomeness, and exuberance to them both. Miss May who used to be Doris Lee besides being decidedly pretty has an unmistakable air of breeding about her. Mr. MacLean is not a thing of beauty, but he's so nice and so likable and so unselfconscious that you welcome his every appearance.

Though the two mentioned are the only so-called stars in the cast, the little lane dog we know so well is in the picture. I don't know what you think about him, but I think he's a wonder. The most human thing walking about on four legs!

"Twenty-three and a Half Hours' Leave" is an adaptation from the story by Mary Roberts Rinehart and it has to do with the doings of an irrepressible young soldier awaiting, with his mates in camp, orders to go overseas. War stuff, you say? And I think you shudder. Well, I'd be wondering with you in many cases, but I had such a good time watching this picture that its being "war stuff" didn't annoy me in the least.

The situations are certainly most unusual. Imagine, for instance, an entire company deprived of their uniforms by an inspector's sudden and unreasonable decision that the material was poor, rushing around in B. V. D.'s and raincoats. Thus attired, Mr. MacLean keeps an appointment with the general's daughter, captures a couple of German spies, and—but I'm telling you entirely too much of the story. Forgive me!

Summing it up, "Twenty-three and a Half Hours' Leave" is a romantic comedy that is sparkling, amusing, and exceptionally well done.

Vive May and MacLean! Long may they shine!

It Wouldn't Show Off.

While visiting some friends of ours we got bragging about our machines to one another. My friend took me out to the garage to show me his, which was sure was a dandy, but I felt as though he had nothing on me, so I took him around to the front of the house and began showing off mine—how easy it started, etc., when, try as I might, I couldn't get the thing started, and after a lot of inward cursing and perspiration we went into the house, myself much worried about how we would get the thing started to go home that night. Later in the evening we decided to have a smoke and reaching in my pocket what do I pull out but the distributor which I had removed for safety's sake! Needless to say, they all had a circus and I was the clown without a doubt the most embarrassed person in the crowd.

THE CORN BORER

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Truck growers should be on the lookout for the European corn borer. There is danger that this pest may be introduced into the corn belt states through the shipment of ears of sweet corn and field corn from the western states. Many of the sweet corn growers get their seed from the New England states, where the corn borer has infested the fields and is increasing. W. F. Flint, state entomologist of Illinois, who recently has issued a warning to the farmers, says: "There is a slight possibility that the European corn borer may have been introduced into this state, and if such is the case it is of the highest importance that we know of this infestation before it has a chance to spread. During corn shocking every farmer should be on the lookout for this insect, and if ears of corn or cornstalks are found containing borers such cases are asked to be reported to the natural history survey, Urbana, Ill."

Fish a la Creole.

A halibut steak, any of the smaller white fish, and some not so white, and the winter caught fish may be cooked, for a change, in a Creole sauce. Fresh tomatoes make a livelier sauce than do canned, but at this season we must place our dependence on the canned. To prepare the sauce take one pint of canned tomato and cook it half an hour with the desired seasonings, gently simmering it, and then strain. Just an onion or onion, green pepper, a bay leaf, and a teaspoon of dried thyme are some of the seasonings to use to our taste. Another one good sized onion peeled and sliced, in two tablespoons of butter for five minutes in a covered saucepan. Take up the onion and mix and brown in the butter two tablespoons of flour. Add the strained tomato and a teaspoon of salt and cook until the liquid thickens. Put the onion into it. Prepare the fish, put in buttered pan, pour the sauce over it, and either bake in the oven twenty minutes with two or three beatings, or cook on top of stove over a small fire with rather constant basting. Lift from pan so that the sauce will run under once or twice.

THE IRON AGE

The Iron Age today will say:

"The iron trade faces a much more serious shortage than that which has been a matter of concern for weeks. Even though work be resumed promptly on the distribution and use of such fuel as is likely to continue for weeks and their removal will be only by degrees. Under the latest restrictive order be- havior coke ovens are limited to 50 per cent of the coal charged into them in November and by-products are put on thirty hours' coking time, practically cutting their output by 50 per cent."

"Ten days' enforcement of this order would cause nearly half the blast furnaces of the country to bank or blow out. With the added possibility of snow production in the next two months is thus more serious than at any time."

"Thus far iron and steel producing plants seem to have been hurt more than those of consumers. In all iron and steel operations the using up of re- serve coal means a constant liability to shut down through the winter. Rapid advance of pig iron prices continues. Steelmakers are more set in their re- sistance to new business, and are tied up in arrears. The policy of the steel cor- poration in sticking to March 21 prices is maintained. There is still considera- ble sale of plates to England, but in general the coal strike has made a se- rious inroad on export shipments of steel."

"General orders that are coming on the books at Chicago now amount to 400,000 tons and represent six months' operations for the rail mill in that district."

COLD WEATHER CONDITIONS HELP
PRICE OF GRAINPoor Wire Service Adds to Nervousness of Shorts.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Low temperatures that delayed the movement of freight trains and made wire service poor and shorts in December corn nervous favored holders of grain. Prices advanced despite efforts of shorts to keep them down, and at the close corn was up 1 1/2¢ for December and 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ on other months. Oats were 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ higher, rye 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ and barely 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ higher, the latter on December.

Kansas City corn prices were unchanged to 1/4¢ higher, and St. Louis 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ higher. Oats there were 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ higher. In Minneapolis grains were 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ higher, and in Winnipeg up 1/2¢ to 3/4¢, with arrivals of 145 cars.

Corn Has Narrow Range. Active deliveries of corn held within a range of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, the nervousness of shorts in December and the strength shown in the delivery inducing considerable commission houses buying at times. Owing to the light trade, however, local professionals were able to check the bids at $1.54 for May by free selling, and when sterling broke sharply increased pressure carried prices off to $1.44, at which figure resting orders in the hands of commission houses absorbed the offerings. A rally on short covering came at the last.

May Oats at New High. Lack of selling pressure and free buying by strong local professionals advanced May oats to over the previous year's close to $1.40, a new high on the present movement. Hereafter there was selling by another set of local traders and a commission house with seaboard connections, and a drop of 1/4¢ to $1.39 from the top followed, the close being firm.

Eastern Longs Sell Firm. Eastern longs were on the selling side of rye, while local traders bought, and prices advanced to a new high on the present upturn. No. 2 on track sold at $1.61 1/2. Receipts, 7 cars. Bids of the New York and Chicago over December, track Baltimore, failed to result in sales to the seaboard.

Barley in active demand and 1924 high, with sales at $1.50 1/2, the latter for a fancy car, which made a new high on the crop. Receipts, 18 cars.

Packers Making Short Ribs. Short ribs are being made by local packers, and their sales for January were all the market would take without prices declining too fast. Armour was the best seller, yet the close was at gains of 5¢. Longs were the best sellers of lard, and there was a fair business in buying of January and selling of May lard at 25¢ to 30¢ difference, while recently the two were even. At the last prices were 10¢ lower to 20¢ higher.

Cash trade was light and foreign exchange lower than ever. The produce being shipped, however, was sold several months ago, and probably financed then, as practically nothing is doing now. Packing in the west since Nov. 1, as given by the Price Current Grain Report.

WORLD'S GRAIN
MARKET NEWS

So long as there is no modification in the fuel administration's order and coal remains at a premium, the Chicago board of trade will continue to operate on the same schedule.

Should this cold weather last any length of time, consumption of corn and feed in general on the farms will be greatly increased.
The movement of trains will be slow, as locomotives are unable to work within 20 to 30 miles of a coal mine. Coal is scarce, and with effort made to move coal in preference to especially the west, northwest, and southwest. A Chicago train back from a trip through Iowa says there are around 2,000 cars of corn on side tracks there awaiting more power to be moved.

There is a feeling in certain quarters that corn prices are to hold until there is greatly increased pressure. On the other hand, a few professionals are bearish. The selling yesterday was said to have come from St.
Louis. James H. Bennett reported that a southern Mississippi dealer was being contracted for 200 cars of corn, and the buyer claiming that the crop there has been used up.

A feature of the oat situation that has not been talked about much is the increased demand from the south and southwest at relatively higher prices than Chicago. Stocks in the latter section are being sold at a premium, and there is a feeling in certain quarters that the final returns estimated. Making of moisture foods are having a large trade over the south and southeast, and they use 25 percent of oats. A buying of December and 2 1/2¢ difference for the northwest. Traders in the latter section were also selling out liberal lines here that were supposed to show a profit. Changing from May to July was also given more attention at 4 1/2¢ to 4 3/4¢ difference.

A vote will be taken today on the proposed change in the rule which will prevent any member of a firm or corporation from making a trade for himself or firm. It will, if adopted, require all trades to be placed in brokers' hands. The directors have sent out a circular advising in detail.

A board of trade membership sold yesterday at $11,500 net to the buyer—a new record. The estate of D. F. Johnson posted his membership for transfer.
